Director's Notes

Our "Theatre Stories" are all, aptly enough, stories about theatre. The first of our three one-acts, titled "The Actor's Nightmare", is exactly what the title suggests. A man finds himself trapped in the worst possible situation that an actor can find himself in, and just when he begins to find his bearings, everything turns upside-down. Our second show, "This is a Play," is a tale of two worlds: one; the world of the bad play they are performing, and two; the thoughts running through the actors' minds (as well as the mind of the score's composer) as they perform their show. Our third and final play is "Competition Piece," which chronicles the process, from beginning to end, of putting on a one-act play from the perspectives of three different high schools.

Putting together three different shows with casts of varying sizes in just over a month has been an exciting adventure for all of us. We hope that you have as much fun watching them as we have had working on them!

Thanks to our cast, which is one of the closest and most energetic we've ever worked with! Thanks also to the SPA staff for everything they've done to support our efforts. And a very special thank you to all our fantastic parents!

Enjoy your night of Theatre Stories!
